To Whom It May Concern,

I have had the pleasure of working with Cameron Ezeir for the past two years here in Green Bay at WFRV-TV, CBS.

In a very short time, he has accomplished many amazing things and truly excelled at just about every facet of sports journalism. Producing, writing, videography, digital, reporting, and anchoring. Cam can do it all. He's reliable and dependable. He's also very talented in just about every single category that I just mentioned.

Cam is also very trustworthy and honorable in the way he interviews subjects, and builds a bond with coworkers that is admirable. He has worked long hours that have included weekends and nights. Cam consistently comes up with great ideas as how to cover particular stories, and has the ability to set up a rundown that is consistently accurate.

He is willing to travel, complete a task in a timely fashion, and be extremely efficient with his time. I would recommend him for just about any position, within this business, knowing that he is capable of making any company better, and producing the best product possible.

Sincerely,

Burke Griffin
