

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to strongly recommend Cameron Ezeir for this position. I had the opportunity to work closely with Cameron for three years (2023–2026) in the sports department at WFRV-TV, where I watched him grow and excel as a Sports Producer, Reporter, and Anchor.

Cameron is as committed to the product as anyone I've worked with. Whether it's attention to detail behind the scenes, connecting with the audience, or executing under pressure, he consistently delivers. Even in challenging moments, he maintains a high level of professionalism, puts in maximum effort, and goes above and beyond expectations.

He actively seeks feedback and embraces constructive criticism, always looking for ways to improve. Cameron doesn't shy away from challenges and has proven to be dependable in every situation, including the demanding and often unpredictable hours that come with working in sports.

Beyond his work ethic, Cameron is an outstanding person. He brings energy, positivity, and a genuine sense of care for those around him. He's the kind of individual who represents an organization in the right way. Approachable, respectful, and team-oriented. His personality naturally brings people together and elevates the environment around him.

With Cameron, you know exactly what you're getting every day: someone who cares deeply about the brand, is reliable, works relentlessly, and helps bring out the best in others.

Adding Cameron to your organization would be an easy decision.

Sincerely,
Kyle Malzhan

WFRV-TV Sports Reporter/Anchor
